

MARSH NATIONAL BANK OF LINCOLN, NEBR.

APRIL 15, 1884.—Referred to the House Calendar and ordered to be printed.

---

Mr. BUCKNER, from the Committee on Banking and Currency, submitted the following

REPORT:

[To accompany bill H. R. 5966.]

The Committee on Banking and Currency submit the following report on the bill (H. R. 5966) to change the name of Marsh National Bank of Lincoln, Nebr.:

The Committee on Banking and Currency, to whom was referred House bill 5966, respectfully report that they have considered the same and recommend its passage, inasmuch as it seeks only to change the name of a national bank, and there is no existing law by which this can be done except by the action of Congress.

The bill provides for the protection of the creditors of the bank and others having transactions with it, and is in the same form with other bills that have received the sanction of the House and that have been approved by the Comptroller of the Currency.
